Due to the risk of your pet licking its incision we recommend an Elizabethan collar be applied to all post-surgical patients. Licking the incision will cause sutures to dissolve too quickly and infection to occur. This will slow the healing process for your pet. If licking occurs your pet may need to come in for wound therapy, staples, and oral antibiotics.

_____ Decline Elizabethan collar

Surgical And Anesthesia Consent Form

I am the owner or agent for the below described animal, and I have the authority to execute this consent.
I hereby consent and authorize this hospital to perform the following procedures or operations:

The nature of the above described operations or procedures have been explained to me, and I understand what will be done. I acknowledge that no guarantee has been made regarding the results of the surgery or procedure my pet will receive. I understand that during the performance of the forgoing procedure, unforeseen conditions may necessitate an extension of the procedure (s), or a different procedure (s) than set forth above. Therefore, I consent to and authorize the performance of such procedures as are deemed necessary and desirable in the exercise of the veterinarian's professional judgment. I understand that I am responsible for any additional charges incurred. X_____ (initial)

I understand that due to unforeseen circumstances, additional medications may be required. These medications may be administered to your pet by the veterinarian, or sent home with you in the form of a prescription. I understand that I am responsible for any additional charges incurred. X_____ (initial)

Pain Control – A single injection for pain (AFTER surgery) is administered to all surgical patients. No other pain medication is needed unless prescribed by your pet's doctor. X_____ (initial)

For spays only, if your pet is found to be in-heat, a $23 fee will apply. If your pet is found to be pregnant, a minimum of a $40 fee will apply. (If your pet is being spayed and is found to be pregnant, the pregnancy will be terminated in order to complete the spay. If this is not your wish, please let us know NOW and request an ultrasound) X_____ (initial)

I understand that my animal will be placed under anesthesia. Anesthetic drugs may depress the heart or lungs ability to function normally. These drugs are eliminated from the body by a combination of the lungs, liver, and kidneys. Due to these factors, complications during anesthesia could arise. Despite our best efforts, these complications could result in the serious harm or death of the animal.

To minimize the risk of complications and provide the highest level of care possible, the following additional procedures are recommended:

Please indicate your choice by initialing below

Hospitalization Policy

In order to provide the best veterinary care and protect the health of your pet, as well as other patients during their stay at Hickman Veterinary Hospital, the following policies have been set forth:

Vaccinations- Every animal in our facility must be current on vaccinations. Proof of vaccinations administered by a veterinarian will need to be provided. Animals that are not current on vaccinations will have them administered at admission. The owner is responsible for the charges incurred. This is a very important part of protecting the health of our hospitalized patients. X_____ (initial)

Required for Dogs: DA2PPv $32.00 and Rabies $18.00.

Required for Cats: PureVax4 RCPC + Rabies $43.00. Feline Leukemia is recommended, but not required. The total cost is $74.00 for ALL required and recommended vaccinations.

Fleas and Ticks- Every animal in our facility is required to be flea and tick free. Any animals admitted into the hospital that have fleas and ticks will be treated with a veterinary recommended dose of flea product (the cost is $24.00-$28.00 depending on the product required). The owner is responsible for the charges incurred. X_____ (initial)

Microchip- We highly recommend that all pets are implanted with a microchip. This is optional.

Would you like for your pet to have a microchip implanted during their stay here? Yes or No $72.00

Surgical Discharge Instructions

1. When you feed your pet for the first-time following surgery, offer only small portions of food at a time. Occasionally, the effects of anesthesia can cause your pet to become sick.
2. Your pet was given a pain injection following their surgery today. DO NOT give them any over the counter medication for pain. If you feel that your pet is still uncomfortable, contact the office and the doctor can determine if we need to prescribe take-home medication.
3. Keep your pet confined in a warm, dry place for the first few days following surgery. The sedation can lower their body temperature and being kept in a cold environment immediately following surgery is not recommended.
4. In most surgeries, the suture material used is absorbable and will dissolve on its own. So, unless you are directed otherwise, you do not need to return for suture removal.
5. Please try to keep your pet's incision area dry and discourage your pet from licking it. Also do not bathe your pet for 10-14 days following surgery. This could cause sutures to dissolve too early and the incision to become infected.
6. Watch your pet's incision closely for signs of redness, swelling, or discharge. Call us immediately if you notice any of these signs.
7. Discourage jumping and excessive running for the first few days.
8. If your pet received an Elizabethan Collar ("cone"), it needs to stay on for as long as the sutures are in, typically 10-14 days.

If a bandage was applied, please keep it dry and clean until your follow-up appointment.
